

Shameful self-promotion

April 23, 2020

Good morning,

In a somewhat uncharacteristic self-promotion, I suggest you consider signing up for "The Morning Brew," an easy read and much less dower look at the current situation in which we find ourselves "inextricably intertwined."

Here is a link to take a look - it's free and this is not a phishing expedition.

The "self promotion" is an effort on my part to get a new coffee mug out of the deal.

On a more relevant note: I suggest you consider taking an hour and half out of your watching the pro football draft tonight (watch 20 year olds earn more money in one night than you or I could in a month of....year of.....lifetime of Sundays). Consider listening in on the CSIMS webinar about telehealth and HIPAA. That's also free and likely much more valuable than the football draft. Click on this link to go to the registration page...https://zoom.us/webinar/register/WN\_SIVpvdXdRqy0DQEBan3N7g .

PS - Soon, we are likely to receive regulations from the DWC with respect to teleevals and perhaps a hint at the MFLS to come. Watch for it!!

Please take care and be well.
